the other great Powers. Besides the change of government in France and the intimacy of the de Freycinet Cabinet with the Rothschild point towards a sober policy in that quarter, where a good deal of capital is at stake.

Prince Bismarck has in a threatening manner demanded explanations from the Russian government in regard to the pan-slavo speech of General Skobelev. The German Chancellor it is said threatened to withdraw the Ambassador from the Russian court unless the explanations were satisfactory. All this may be partly invention or semi-official "blague" allowed to appear in the press. The gist of it however is important. It means that Austria in Bosnia and eventually in the Aegean if not on the Bosphorus is to be encouraged to proceed as representing German interests in those regions. That policy very much simplifies the Eastern question, if Mr Gladstone could be induced to restrain his scruples in favour of the Greek form of the Christian creed and ritual in preference to the Roman; or if he could be induced to see that the "heaviness" of the Turks, that is their taste for a plurality of wives is initiated under less orderly conditions, at least in Serbia and Roumania. It is exceedingly difficult to arrange international questions in the Danubian provinces or in Egypt or in Ireland by merely English or Scotch notions of what is orthodox in morals, politics, or religion. The attempt to do so leads to what in foreign affairs has been contemptuously termed a "parochial policy"; often right, even politically, but liable to be checkmated by events, and by less scrupulous adversaries.

EDITORIAL TABLE

The mails by the Pacific steamer Aconagua supply London papers to Sunday Feb. 12th. We have to thank the well-known newspapers, Messrs. Dewey and Co., for sending us same. There is very little news in addition to what we published yesterday, by the Lucerne. It is becoming clear enough that Russia is the wire-puller in the Herzegovina revolt. The Havas telegraph of the 9th ult. announcing the renewal of the Boer war with the English and despatch of troops from England is not confirmed; the fighting going on was between the Boers and a native chief named Montsima, who thrashed the Dutchmen in the first battle. Great Britain refuses any modification of the Clayton-Bulwer Treaty on the ground that the whole world is interested in the Panama Canal, and no nation can be allowed to arrogate to itself any special rights in connection with it. We give the latest news in our Supplement.

Our lady friends should procure the Grand Marquis styled the "Exposition Continental" composed by Maestro Carlos Albino, and which he has dedicated to the Italian Society "Stella Marina." It is very nice and is on sale at all the music shops.

It was said yesterday that the Industrial Club do not intend to give free admission tickets to the Exhibition to the editors or reporters of the Press, any more than to the exhibitors themselves. It may be sublimely to make the exhibitors pay $500 per show, but the Club Committee will prove themselves far cleverer than they have yet done if they can induce press reporters to pay 3 p.m., much more 300 p.m. for their show, to say nothing of publishing anything about it. The rumour as to the intended exclusion of the Press may not be true; if it is, it will be the most ridiculous of all the many blunders in connection with this unfortunate Exhibition. The Industrial of yesterday refers cautiously to something "my grave" in reference to the Industrial Club, and which will greatly surprise its readers. What is on the "carpet" now? Another row? Suppose Mr. Danneberg resigned yesterday by the Minister of the Interior? also the Treasurer Mr. Martin.

Buenos Aires boasts, and with justice, of being highly cosmopolitan. Even the most cosmopolitan city in the United States—San Francisco—is not much ahead of us, if at all, in variety of nationality. The population of the great California city includes—Austrians, 17,500; Danes, 2,000; French, 3,500; Germans, 40,000; Italians, 10,000; Portuguese, 2,000; Norwegians and Swedes, 500; Russians, 3,000; Spaniards, 2,000; Swiss, 2,000; Chinese, 19,000; a total of 101,500. There are several thousand of Negroes, Japanese, and of various other nationalities, leaving about 90,000 Americans in the Queen City of the Pacific. The returns of the copies of newspapers printed in the English language in San Francisco give one copy to each English-speaking person in the city.

The Provincial Government made an unpleasant discovery the other day, viz. that it owed the Education Board 1,500,000 since the memorable days when General Bustillos was National Interventor in B. Aires. The money has been paid.

Messrs. Stiller and Laas, the firm of engravers who now occupy that venerable pile once called Standard Court, have turned out some Bonds for the Government, so splendidly that they cannot be detected from those engraved in the United States. This new industry here is one that promises well, as few countries require a more constant supply of new Bonds than this.

The police are making it unpleasant for those gentlemen who have murdered their way to eminence in criminal circles. In addition to Julius Barrientos, Tom Corrales, a "suave" no less famous, has been placed under lock and key on the other side of the river.

The Constitutional question about the hackneyed coachmen of the city is not settled yet, and they continue to ply about for hire. The sympathy of the public seems to lean towards the Jews in this dispute.

The Lord Mayor has written to the Chief of Police asking him to look sharp after the indecent match box nuisance and put it down if possible. If the respectable portion of the public took the trouble to examine the match boxes before buying them, leaving the indecent ones in the hands of the seller, the nuisance would be abolished more speedily than by any police measures.

We call the attention of our Irish readers to Dean Dillon's advertisement in another column in reference to the religious ceremonies at the Merced Church on the Festival of St. Patrick this day week. The Archbishop has dispensed with the obligation of fasting on that day for the Irish residents.

The "tenure Stamp" we perceive, has still filling charms for several of our colleagues. It is, however, worn threadbare. The great question of the day now is to get the Municipal Bondholders paid.

A morning colleague makes the refreshing announcement that there is not a single house in town to be let, owing to the influx of visitors to the Exhibition and the fact that the "haute volée" have returned to their "querencias" in the city from their summer quarters a month earlier than usual. Our colleague is drawing the long bow, and if he wants a nice house, or half a dozen of them, we recommend him to interview Mr. Bonassan, the well-known house agent, who has letters on his list. Houses are, however, much more scarce this year than they usually are at this season, and the Exhibition may have something to do with it.

The Montevidean papers indulge in some very uncompromising remarks in reference to the Chaacarta Cemetery of this city. We hope all they say is not true, but we know that a good deal of it is. We trust, however, that it cannot possibly be true that dogs are allowed to tear up the graves and devour the corpses! This is too dreadful.

We came across the following valuable hint for mothers of families while scanning an exchange yesterday:—"The common practice of having night lights in the bedrooms of children of well-to-do parents is deprecated by Dr. Robert H. Baker, well. He says that it has a most injurious effect upon the nervous system of young children. Instead of the perfect rest the optic nerves ought to have, and which nature provides for by the darkness of the night, these nerves are perpetually stimulated, and of course, the brain and the rest of the nervous system suffer. Children thus brought up are excessively timid for years after going into the dark."

The papers by the Aconagua announce that Prince Leopold's marriage will shortly take place. The following collateral romance in connection with it may interest some of our readers:—"In the year 1853 the Eighth Regiment of Prussian Cuirassiers was quartered at Bonn. Among its officers was Prince Albert of Waldeck-Pyrmont. Among the English colony at Bonn was a Miss Dora Gage, daughter of the Rev. Robert Gage, of Rathlin, Ireland. Miss Gage had attractions and rode well, and she won the heart of the youthful prince. In June, 1854, amorganatic marriage was celebrated at the chapel of Dablin Castle, and the bride took the name of the Countess von Rhoden. When the approaching royal marriage takes place, the Grafen von Rhoden, née Dora Gage, will be aunt by marriage to Prince Leopold, as she is already to the Queen of the Netherlands."

The baffled bull-ringing speculators here have hit on a dodge which they hope may put some money in their purses. They intend to erect a ring at Colonia and run steamers from here. The principal thing against the spec. is that time and fighters are unknown to fame and Portenoe are addicted to "mal de mer" when aboard.

Mr. Ortelis, the famous artist in hair, will have a gem at the Exhibition—a portrait of ex-President Aveland, made of the hair of one of his daughters. The likeness is most striking, equal to the best painting on ivory, and leaves photography in the shade.

President Roca dropped in at the Exhibition on Wednesday. The Ministers of Interior and Foreign Affairs, the Lord Mayor, and the members of the Committees accompanied

H. E. The chief object of the visit was to inspect the concert-hall and ascertain its capacity, as the inauguration ceremony will take place in it, and it would not do to issue too many invitations. [We believe the hall will accommodate comfortably about 1500 people. The workmen now keep at it night and day in every part of the building.

The Minister of War has suspended the Expedition to Nahuel-Huapi, under General Villegas, till the beginning of next summer. A far larger force than the present one will be necessary, as the Indians are in much greater force than expected. Chile must cooperate, if the savages are to be effectually wiped out down there.

Some marines from the Admiral Brown have been landed at Palermo where they are rubbing up the goose step for the parade at the inauguration of the Exhibition.

There was a shower of thunder-bolts at Guardia Esquina last week. Two or three people were killed, also several head of cattle, and hay ricks burned.

Mr. Luis B. Tamini, Argentine Secretary of Legation in London, leaves to-day to assume his post. We wish him a pleasant voyage; he will find the big city the pleasantest place under the sun, bar none.

Rioja is making great exertions to start a Lottery. Better stick to mining, which although many people consider it a lottery also, is at least a better one than the kind proposed.

We hear that cattle-plague is very rife just now in the partido of Malpén.

The heat yesterday was most oppressive although the thermometer marked only 75 Fahrenheit for the greater part of the day.

Printing House square will soon be smothered in printing ink. Mr. J. Artigue sent round a neat circular yesterday announcing that he has opened an "imprenta" at No. 124, Piedad. We wish him every success.

Dr. Capdevila has been named Judge of 1st Instance in Mercedes. The proper man in the proper place. Whoever likes strong emotions and to have their feelings wrung to the utmost, should go see Madame Gualtieri in Zola's "Cereza Ragin". Her acting is simply wonderful; too painfully so. No description would do it justice.

Number 5801 won the big prize (10,000 pata) in the San Luis Lottery yesterday.

The Minister of the Interior has ordered the Police to enforce the Municipal decree against the "cocheiros." Too late. The "contratista" for the stands has thrown them up.

The Anglo-Brazilian Times says the Emperor played Canival with more gusto than any man in his dominions. His Majesty invited several families to Petropolis for the fun, and when his "pommes" were all gone he fell back on water and big squirts. When the battle was over the Imperial family were quite as soaked as their adversaries.

"Andi alteram partem." We received two very stiff letters yesterday about the Gas-Electricity question, but have no space for them, so hold them for our next issue.

Cedulas..... 100.
Cedulas E..... 100.
National Bank Shares..... 100.
All stocks opened exceptionally weak this morning, but the animation at the ring was constant yesterday and operations were on the whole brisk. Plenty of gold was offered on change, and some sales were effected at par, but none of it had to be taken to the Province Bank, where the gold deposits are daily increasing. Even since the beginning of the year gold has been converted at the Bank, and the National Government has been depositing the same from the mint.

Very little of this gold has been thrown on the market in the shape of discounts by the Bank, but there is no want of same. Owing to bad news from Europe many a general restriction in discounts at all the Banks.

It appears that the expedition to the Nahuel Huapi will be suspended, owing to the bad season and the bad state of the camp down in the strategic triangle. The Indians have burnt large stacks of camp, and the horses cannot get any forage. The National Government should advance all the troops of the army after winter and do away with the Indian ones and for ever. We have heard that the best means of all to do to the Rio Negro, passing Chas de Choele.

The Queen's Speech has been described by the leader of the Opposition as "feeble and wordy," and by their own organ as a Ministerial apology; but it appears to have been very well received at home and abroad, nevertheless. It is worthy, and, here and there, the words appear to be used to disguise the Ministerial meaning, because it would be inconvenient to make it plain just now; but in no part can it be justly called feeble. It is rather that of an overconfident and defiant Administration, who are aware that their foes are preparing a warm reception for them, and beg to say that their arms are bared for the fray.

The Vienna Press of this evening publishes intelligence from Lombard announcing that despatches were made by the authorities upon the domestic of the leading Ruthenians in that city, who were suspected of Pan-Slavist and Russophile agitation.

The public prosecutor, examining judge, and police commissary, were present at the search. A mass of papers and correspondence with Russia were seized, and many persons were arrested, among them being a former Austrian Court Councillor, M. Ivanovics Dobryanski, and his married daughter Olga; M. Podane, editor of the Russian journal Slovos; Plosanski, editor of the journal Pelonsmark; as well as a number of students.

The Herzegovina insurgents have escaped and burned Cognia, an important strategic position between Serejor and Mostar. According to reports from Slav sources there are many desertions from the Austrian ranks.

The Treaty of Commerce between France and Spain will be signed on Monday in Paris.

The projected pilgrimage to Rome encounters difficulties, owing to the opposition shown by many Spanish bishops to lay supervision.

The committee of the Madrid Trade syndicate have demanded an audience of the King relative to the new taxes, which the Government are determined to maintain.

Mr. Goeben dined last night with Prince Bismarck. Herr Scholz, Secretary of State, was also present.

The situation in Basutoland is grave. The chief Jonathan states that the other chiefs are unanimous in favour of Masupha.

Intelligence received reports fighting between the Boers and the chief Mosisana. A Boer force, with three guns, crossed the Convention boundary, and attacked Mosisana on Jan. 10th. The engagement continued all day, the Boers being ultimately repulsed, with the loss of two men and several natives. Six of Mosisana's men were wounded. Fighting was subsequently renewed and was still proceeding on Jan. 31st.

STATE OF IRELAND.

Dublin, Feb. 8th.

In the Land Commissioners' Court to-day, Mr. Merleau, solicitor, Belfast, brought under the notice of Mr. Commissioner Litton a copy of a document which has been circulated on behalf of the county of Derry. The notice purported to be in accordance with Rule 30, Rule 99, of the Court; but there was no such form under that rule. The tenants on whom it had been served had, he said, been frightened by threats which it contained. The tenants had served notice, of intention to have a fair rent fixed under the Land Act, and they were met by this counter notice which purported to come from the Court. The notice in question demanded full particulars of the case intended to be made, of the increase in value, by means of the alleged improvements, and in case such particulars were not supplied, within a week application would be made to the Commissioners for them, or that the tenant should be debarred from giving evidence of the improvements. Mr. Commissioner Litton made an order calling on the solicitors for the landlords to explain in an affidavit the circumstances under which they served such a notice.

The release from Kilmainham of Dr. Kenny, the Land League suspect, was brought about by the intervention of his friends. Mr. Kenny is not a very strong man. He was represented to the authorities at the Castle that his wife's health required that he should reside for some time on the Continent, and it was urged that the purpose of the release was for the purpose of accompanying her. This the Lord Lieutenant agreed to, but on the understanding that if Dr. Kenny were again found meddling in Land League affairs before his departure for abroad, or upon his return, he would be again imprisoned.

He is being made to induce the executive to release Mr. Thomas Brennan, the Land League secretary, on the ground of ill-health.

The Assistant Commissioners gave judgment to-day in the case heard at Millstreet last week on the estates of Sir George Colthurst. Richard Bride, a tenant, has his rent reduced from £140 to £110, Catherine Lyons from £10 to £8 to £10, and John Connors from £11 to £8, to £7 10s. On the estate of Mr. Wm. Leader, John Cashman had his rent reduced from £4 8s 1d to £2 15s. Denis Leary from £31 2s. 1d. to £21 10s. Jeremiah Darby Cronin from £50 6s. 8d. to £37. Jeremiah Daniel Cronin from £24 3s. 3d. to £19. On the Wallis Minor estate, Cornelius Madney's rent was reduced from £100 18s. to £68, John Buckley from £14 17s. to £13, John Kelleher from £3 17s. 6d. to £3 15s., Daniel Buckley, from £68 to £43, while the cases of Denis Crowley and Patrick Buckley, the publicans in Millstreet who held the lands for accommodation, were dismissed. On the estate of Mr. Singleton, Thomas Sullivan had his rent reduced from £55 to £40, and on the estate of Mr. Benjamin Leader, John Cashman had his rent reduced from £54 7s. to £40; and James Connell from £31 2s. 1d. to £21. Mr. Commissioner Reeves, in giving judgment in the last two cases, characterised the act of the landlord in raising the rent 10s. an acre when the lease dropped, on the death of Mr. Nicholas Philpot Leader, under whom the present landlord was middleman, as a most extraordinary one. Because one source of revenue dried up, through the effluxion of the lease, he made the tenants supply the deficiency, or else suffer themselves to be evicted.

Seventeen farmers and artisans were arrested under the Coercion Act to-day at Milltown Malbay, on a charge of inciting to the non-payment of rent. The suspects were sent to Galway Gaol.

A servant named Galvin was arrested last night at Bonaville, county Cork, on suspicion of being one of the parties who attacked a house in that locality. A revolver was found on him, also a list of 'Moonlighters' in the locality, and a drill book.

A few nights ago a party of men entered the house of a water bailiff, named Kilfoyle, at Lisiduff, and drew him several times through a stagnant pool, and made him swear that he would relinquish his occupation. The other bailiff, named McGreal, was also visited, and received a similar caution.

Dr. McBain, one of the recently appointed Dublin police magistrates, died last night.

The breach of promise action of McNulty v. MacAuley, was tried in the Queen's Bench to-day. The plaintiff and defendant are from Balbriggan, county Mayo, the defendant being Dr. Roger MacAuley, Fellow Royal College of Surgeons. The jury awarded £450 damages.

The Randallstown and Toome Tenant Right Association (county Antrim) have held a meeting and passed resolutions cordially approving of the suggestion of Mr. Thomas A. Dickson, M.P., to establish an Ulster Tenants' Defence Association for the purpose of carrying appeals and cases through the Appeal Court free of cost to the tenant, and desiring to impress the matter upon the attention of other tenant associations with a view to its general adoption; also recording their disapproval of coercion laws, for they hold it to be an unjust, unwise, and a dangerous policy to imprison men without the right of trial; and they respectfully urge upon the Government the necessity of passing such remedial measures as extending the Land Act to leaseholders and the occupiers of town parks, abolition of the laws of primogeniture, entail, and settlement; and the establishment of county government.

As an instance of the lawless spirit which prevails very seriously and which threatens very seriously to recoil on farmers themselves, it may be mentioned that a few nights ago a gang of men broke into the house of an old man named James Downey, residing near Shanagolden, in the county Limerick, and, dragging Mrs. Downey out of bed, compelled her to swear her niece, who was to inherit the farm, would marry nobody but a servant named Daniel Downey, who was a first cousin of the girl. The object of compelling this enforced contract was that Downey, the servant, might come into possession of the land of his forefathers. The niece was also placed on her knees and obliged to make each oath that she would relinquish another in favour of her cousin. Since this incident Miss Downey has shown her disregard for the threats by marrying the object of her love. Four men have been arrested for complicity in the outrage, and sent to the Limerick county gaol.

Another arrest for treason-felony, arising out of the Moonlight outrage at Millstreet, took place to-day. A man who had disappeared from the locality after Connell's arrest came to Cork, and enlisted here. He was being conveyed to day to the headquarters of his regiment when he was recognised at the station by a Millstreet policeman.

UNITED STATES.

New York Feb. 10th.

The Court to-day overruled the motion for a new trial in the Guiteau case. Sentence of death was subsequently passed upon the prisoner, who will be executed on June 30th next.

When Judge Cox concluded reading the sentence of death in the usual form, Guiteau shouted to the judge, 'And may the Lord have mercy on your soul!'

A terrible explosion has occurred in the shaft of the Midlothian coal mines in Virginia. Thirty-two men are entombed, and no hope is entertained of saving them.

Later news states that it will be impossible to reach the point where the 32 miners are entombed, for days perhaps for weeks. Not the slightest hope is entertained of releasing them alive.

Mr. Blaine has written a letter to President Arthur, dated the 3rd inst., stating that the late President Garfield warmly approved the proposed Congress of American States. It is understood that President Arthur has not revoked the first invitation, but that Congress is now assembled, he will be controlled by its decision.

In the House of Representatives to-day a resolution was reported from the Foreign Committee requesting President Arthur to give notice to the British Government of the termination of certain provisions of the Treaty of Washington relative to the fisheries.
